DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1-8 are objected to because of the following informalities: see bullet(s) below.

Appropriate correction is required.

- Claims 1, 2, 5, and 6 recite, "in circuit". It is unclear to what the applicant means by this limitation. For examination purposes the examiner has interpreted this as "into the circuit." Please clarify.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Clifton et al. (5,932,935).

- With respect to claims 1, 5, and 6, Clifton et al. discloses a system and method for controlling said system comprising: a synchronous motor (col. 10, ll. 17-20; brushless motor is a synchronous motor); a field coil (col. 4, ll. 32-35); a normal field supply unit (Fig. 15, power from IN) and a standby field supply unit (Fig. 15, #988); and a control unit that connects the normal field supply unit into the circuit with the field winding system and in response to a failure of the normal field supply unit automatically changing over the system from the normal field supply unit to the standby field supply unit (col.

16, ll. 1-19; if flywheel storage is below a certain level then the system switches over to the standby power source #988).

- With respect to claims 2, 5, and 7, Clifton et al. discloses a sensor that senses a signal representative of an electrical parameter, and wherein the system responds to a deviation of the signal from a predetermined value by switching over to the standby power unit (col. 16, ll. 1-19; if flywheel storage is below a certain level then the system switches over to the standby power source #988; see also col. 16, ll. 51-53).
- With respect to claim 3, Clifton et al. discloses a control unit that controls the switching from the normal output to the standby output (Fig. 15, #980 controls switching).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 4 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
 - With respect to claims 4 and 8, the Prior Art does not disclose one standby field supply unit that is shared by a plurality of synchronous motors.
